Helping Homes with Simon Communities

Cash & Carry Kitchens proudly supports Simon Communities of Ireland through our Helping Homes charity partnership. The charity's Executive Director, Ber Grogan, explains why this partnership is so important.

“It’s more than just a kitchen. It’s a place where our residents can feel safe, heard, valued, supported and at home.”

More than just a kitchen

Since 2023, we have donated, designed, manufactured and installed kitchens for homeless services nationwide. These spaces provide independence, allowing individuals and families to cook, connect and rebuild their lives.

In summer 2025, Cash & Carry Kitchens designed, built and installed an Oslo Sage kitchen for a large Simon Communities of Ireland accommodation service in Ennis, Co. Clare. It features two hobs, two integrated ovens, a central island and a converted utility room with individual food cupboards for residents.

Measuring Guide

START WITH AN OUTLINE...

Using the attached kitchen planner, sketch out your room as a simple box – measure the length of ALL interior walls.

THEN MARK IT UP...

Make note of any openings in your room including doors, windows and doorways. Allow for all key structural features.

MOST IMPORTANTLY - MEASURE...

Mark all key areas in the plan. Using a tape measure, note the dimensions of each area and note them on your plan. For example B on the plan - the distance between the radiator and the door.

Choose your kitchen shape

Consider the kitchen shape that you believe would work best. Is it U shaped, Galley, L shaped or does it have an island? Don't worry. Our design experts will help you to decide on the best kitchen layout for you.

Kelly's Mirano Sage

Kelly Warburton is renovating a 135-year-old house in Cork city, while also sharing the journey on her popular @little_victorian_terrace_cork Instagram page.

Kelly worked with Cash & Carry Kitchens to create a small country-farmhouse style kitchen with all the storage and appliances she needed.

Get This Look

Kelly was very particular about her worktop, opting for solid oak. "It looks really authentic", she says. The brass handles help bring out the sage green of the kitchen – "they make the colour pop".

She really wanted a Belfast sink. "It was always my dream to have one", she tells us. "It really adds to the whole vibe and aesthetic of the kitchen".

Peter's Modica Dust Grey

Peter lives in Ballincollig, Co. Cork with his husband Adam and their puppy Hazel.

Peter and Adam knew that the kitchen would be a very important part of their house, so they wanted a modern social space that was perfect for cooking. "I love the Modica Dust Grey because it's very minimalist and simple. It's a nice colour and goes with everything."

Get This Look

They went with integrated appliances for a cleaner look. The coffee station is next to the fridge and makes early mornings so much easier, with cups located in the cupboard above. "It's a very important place in our kitchen".

"I really like the spice rack, because it saves so much space", Peter tells us. "It's very easy to reach when I'm cooking at the hob".
